Ten-year-old singing sensation Oliver Richman [2] performed for audiences and the hosts of Fox 5's MORE Show (KVVU-TV) in Las Vegas on December 8 with a special live performance of "One Little Christmas Tree." Richman has been in the spotlight since the newly released remake of "One Little Christmas Tree" [5] made its debut on YouTube [6] and his website OliverRichman.com [2] on November 15.

The music prodigy is set to perform "One Little Christmas Tree" at Stevie Wonder's 15th Annual House Full of Toys Benefit Concert on Saturday, December 18 at the Nokia Theatre in Los Angeles.

Wonder invited the young singer to perform at the star-studded benefit concert after hearing Oliver's recording of the classic holiday song, written by his grandfather and legendary Motown songwriter, Ron Miller. The song was originally recorded by Wonder in 1967 as well as the songwriter's classic, "Someday At Christmas" from Wonder's only Christmas album of the same title.

In addition, Lisa Dawn Miller [7], Ron Miller's daughter and Oliver's mother, will perform the poignant "If I Could" [8], "another much recorded standard from her father's catalog."

Miller wrote some of Wonder's biggest early hits such as "For Once In My Life," "Heaven Help Us All," "A Place In The Sun" and "Yester-me, Yester-you, Yesterday."

Richman also recently performed at local events including the National Anthem for the L.A. Derby Dolls Championship game on December 4. Click here [9] to see Oliver's performance.

Earlier this fall, Oliver created major industry buzz with his release of "Defying Gravity," which has been viewed on YouTube ^[10] nearly 40,000 times.

Oliver has been entertaining audiences for several years with his powerful voice, energetic stage presence and diverse dancing and acting strengths. His videos releases were designed as a professional intro/debut to his multitude of talents, just as the early YouTube clips of pop sensation Justin Bieber were instrumental to launching his career.

One of the songs Bieber recorded early on, in fact, was "Someday at Christmas," a classic Stevie Wonder hit, written by Oliver's maternal grandfather, legendary Motown songwriter Ron Miller. Bieber was also invited to the White House to sing it for President Obama and First Lady Michelle Obama.
